Employer Representation/Authorization Information and Instructions

(Do not return any forms by fax. Original signatures are required.)

General information

Lobbyists are not permitted to lobby until they are registered with the West Virginia Ethics Commission and complete certain training requirements. The Ethics Act places responsibility on the entity which employs a lobbyist to see that the lobbyist is registered before any lobbying is done on the employer's behalf. It is a violation of the Act to employ a person to lobby who is not registered as a lobbyist unless the person registers as soon as possible before lobbying and otherwise complies with all registration and reporting requirements.

Reporting by the lobbyist is required

The employer is responsible for ensuring that any lobbying-related expenditures which it makes, and which are required to be reported, are reported by its registered lobbyist. [e.g., the employer of a lobbyist holds a reception for all legislators. The employer pays all expenses directly and the lobbyist has no involvement except to attend and speak with the legislators. The lobbyist must report the total cost of the reception on his or her Lobbyist Activity Report.] The expenditures which are required to be reported are set forth in W.Va. Code §6B-3-1 through 6B-3-11 and in the Ethics Commission's Legislative rule, 158 CSR 12, entitled Lobbying. Contact the Ethics Commission with any question.

Lobbyists must report lobbying activities and expenditures three times a year as follows.

May 15 - covers the months of January, February, March, and April

September 15 - covers the months of May, June, July, August

January 15 - covers the months of September, October, November, and December

Reporting dates are strictly enforced and fines of $10.00 per business day levied for late filing (up to a maximum of $250.00). Reporting via facsimile is not permitted, but reports with signatures in blue ink may be emailed to the Commission. Notify the Ethics Commission promptly of any email or mailing address changes or corrections. All forms and reports are available on the Ethics Commission website at ethics.wv.gov.

Representation acceptance

When the Employer Representation/Authorization form and the appropriate fees are accepted by the Ethics Commission, the lobbyist is then registered to represent the employer. This registration is valid through the end of calendar year 2020 unless terminated in writing before that time.

Registration expiration

Lobbyists are required to re-register in odd-numbered years.
